HelloBeautiful.com, the premier online destination for African American women, announced on May 24, the release of their 'Women to Know' feature, highlighting African American women from all walks of life who are using their platforms to effect change in their communities.

This year, the annual feature highlights Black women who are at the forefront of social change. The list includes a range of women (politicians, lawyers, activists, teachers, entrepreneurs and artists) who are working tirelessly to advance the message of equality and to uplift their communities.

Some of the dynamic women included are : Alicia Garza, founding member of Black Lives Matter, April Reign, creator of #OscarsSoWhite, Kamala Harris, the first female Attorney General of California, Marilyn Mosby, State's Attorney for Baltimore City, Sybrina Fulton, Activist and Mother of Trayvon Martin, Bree Newsome, Activist and Filmmaker and Valeisha Butterfield Jones, Head of Black Community Engagement, Google. While Black women continue to be at the forefront of social change, too often their efforts go unnoticed.

HelloBeautiful, an InteractiveOne property, embraces the philosophy that Black women are diverse and dynamic -- the women who work tirelessly for women's rights and the women who are rocking the latest trends are not mutually exclusive. From politics to social movements, from fashion trends to the latest entertainment stories, HelloBeautiful covers all the headlines black women need to know.
